TEN OF THE FINEST NEW PATENTED ROSES

The ten varieties offered here are patented roses, and although new, are highly regarded by nurserymen and rosarians everywhere. At least a few of these comparative newcomers should be welcomed in the home garden. They are interesting, beautiful and give satisfying evidence of the improvements being made by modern rose culture.

ECLIPSE
Pat. No. 172

CRIMSON GLORY—Plant Pat. No. 105

Well-named, the color is truly glorious, a deep, lustrous crimson. This rose has many other appealing qualities, for it is beautifully formed, very fragrant, and the plant produces an abundance of flowers which are extremely large, particularly in the fall. Each, $1.65.

CALIFORNIA—Plant Pat. No. 449

This is an immense rose, frequently measuring from 5 to 6 inches in diameter when fully opened. The color is very lovely, the broad petals an iridescent bronzy apricot toned with saffron yellow. The fragrance is delicious and the small, shining, dark leaves unusually attractive. Each, $1.65.

FANTASIA—Plant Pat. No. 590

A bright golden yellow rose. Dainty and graceful and with the gay quality of its fairy-tale name. It has a delightful wild-rose fragrance and is one of the most prolific bloomers of the yellow varieties. The plant is bushy, vigorous, resistant to disease, drought and heat. The rose keeps well after cutting, makes exquisite corsages and bouquets. Each, $1.65.

ECLIPSE—Plant Pat. No. 172

Often called the national favorite yellow rose, this variety has won many high awards both here and abroad. The large golden buds are beautifully ornamented by long green sepals which extend almost to the tip. The plant is hardy and produces a generous quantity of flowers which are long-lasting and very desirable for cutting purposes. Each, $1.65.

DICKSON'S RED—Plant Pat. No. 376

A rich scarlet rose that holds its thrilling color until the petals fall. It is beautifully formed and has a fine perfume. The plant is vigorous, blooms generously and the foliage is excellent. Its beauty and many fine qualities have made this a favorite of discerning rose growers. Each, $1.65.

ETERNAL YOUTH—Plant Pat. No. 332

The name suggests the soft pink freshness of this rose. Each pink petal has a creamy yellow base and, when fully opened, the flower reveals graceful bright yellow stamens. The buds are long and pointed, perfectly modelled. Fragrant. Easy to grow. Each, $1.65.

GLOAMING—Plant Pat. No. 131

The large, firm salmon-pink buds are particularly lovely in their half-opened stage. In full bloom, the rose is a very unusual shade of pink, overlaid with tones of orange. The plant is exceptionally strong and vigorous and produces its large roses on erect stems. A superb cut-flower variety with a sweet fragrance. Each, $1.65.

GREER GARSON—Patent applied for

A deep true pink, this lovely rose lives up to the beauty and splendid performance of the actress for whom it is named. The large pointed bud unfolds beautifully to an exhibition form rose, a fine pink with brilliant yellow at the heart. It is long stemmed and has a fruity fragrance. The sturdy plant carries waxy, dark green disease-resistant foliage. Each, $1.65.

LADY MANDEVILLE—Plant Pat. No. 461

A yellow rose that holds warm amber tones. Very pleasing in colors. The blooms are large and full, with a delightful fragrance. The plant is upright, vigorous and notably resistant to disease. Choice and dependable. Each, $1.65.

MCGREDY'S SUNSET—Plant Pat. No. 317

The varieties which bear the name of the famous Irish rose grower are invariably fine. "Sunset" is at its loveliest when it is fully opened. Then the clear yellow petals are beautifully flushed, revealing their sunset colors of yellow, orange and scarlet. Hot weather and intense sunlight do not trouble this rose and the plant is resistant to disease. Each, $1.65.

SELECT FROM THESE STANDARD WORLD-FAMOUS BUSH ROSES

AMI QUINARD

The dainty deep red buds are very fine for boutonnières. They open into semi-double roses with petals like dark crimson velvet, the color so intense it is almost black. The center of golden anthers is in lovely contrast to the dark petals. This rose has a sweet and lasting fragrance and the tall vigorous plant blooms generously. Each, $1.25.

BETTY UPRICHARD

A fine old favorite that has been in demand for more than twenty-five years. It has large semi-double roses of a clear, delicate salmon-pink; the outside of the petals are a deep carmine with a coppery sheen. The upright plant bears a generous profusion of the fragrant blooms. Each, $1.25.

BRAZIER

Flame-scarlet, or as the name suggests, the color of burning embers. The bud is bright burnt-orange, the very double open rose a rich scarlet through which glows the vivid orange on the reverse of the petals. It is fragrant, lasts well when cut and the vigorous, full-foliaged plant produces its flaming, fragrant blooms from June until frost. Each, $1.25.

CONTRAST

Red and yellow, an unusual bi-color. The upper surface of each petal is bright cerise, with yellow on its reverse. The color contrast is very beautiful. A fine cutting rose with long stems. Each, $1.25.

CHRISTOPHER STONE

A splendid crimson-scarlet rose that is continuously popular. The long pointed buds open into huge, velvety semi-double flowers. The fragrance is warm and spicy and the plant has a long blooming period. These qualities and the fine color place this rose among the best reds. Each, $1.25.

CATALONIA

Often described as the brightest, most eye-arresting rose ever produced. It is the color of brilliant orange-crimson velvet. The rose is very full, with 50 petals and is richly fragrant. A spectacular variety that has won many high honors. Each, $1.25.

CHARLES P. KILHAM

Coral red with orange at the base. Introduced in 1926, this rose makes as gay a showing in the garden as the vivid newer varieties. The plant produces perfectly-formed fragrant flowers on long cutting stems. The foliage is very dark and glossy and resistant to mildew. Each, $1.25.

Well-known favorite roses as well as many of the best new varieties are listed here. All the roses offered in this folder are healthy, field-grown two-year-old plants. In shipping them to you, we pack the plants in wet moss and wrap them securely in a heavy wrapper to assure their arrival in first-class condition. We prepay postage charges.

CYNTHIA

A delightful rose both as a bud and in full bloom. The color is a rich coppery pink; the buds are long and pointed, opening into very double blooms. A fine rose for cutting purposes and for its effect in the garden. The plant grows tall and upright and flowers freely. Each, $1.25.

DAINTY BESS

The best-loved of the dainty single-type Irish roses. It has five bluish-pink ruffled petals which encircle a golden center and the cluster of wine-red stamens. The slender buds are salmon-rose, the graceful open flower from three to four inches in diameter. For all its charm, the plant is dependable and produces its blooms in abundance. Each, $1.25.

DUQUESSA DE PENNERANDA

A very staunch variety, one of the earliest to bloom in the spring. The rose is unique in color, a rich orange bud opening into a golden apricot bloom. It is very double, fragrant and long lasting. The plant is strong and upright and produces a steady succession of blooms and clean, bright foliage. Each, $1.25.

ETOILE de HOLLANDE

A sweet-scented red rose that is world famous. Strong and sturdy, it thrives everywhere. It is a brilliant crimson, with fine oval buds that open slowly into exquisitely shaped blooms. The color is unfading through summer's heat but in the early fall the rose takes on an even darker, more velvety lustre. The plant produces many fine blooms throughout the season and is quite resistant to mildew. Each, $1.25.

HENRICH WENDLAND

This famous rose thrives exceptionally well on the Pacific Coast. Vivid nasturtium red petals, with a golden hue, retain their color through intense heat. The plant is strong and upright, producing a steady succession of brilliant, fragrant blooms. Each, $1.25.

HINRICH GAEDE

Large and bold, ruddy-orange in color, this is a spectacular beauty. The nasturtium red bud, long and pointed, opens into a large double flower of a glowing orange-scarlet. The fragrance is very pleasing. The stems are long and strong, the leaves dark green and glossy. The plant is strongly resistant to disease and blooms freely. One of the showiest roses in the garden. Each, $1.25.

IMPERIAL POTENTATE

A rose that has rightfully won many gold and silver medals. The large double flowers are an opalescent rose-pink, developing from lovely glistening rose-carmine buds. The sturdy plant and fine foliage are very satisfactory and the deep pink roses a constant delight. Each, $1.25.

JOANNA HILL

Exceptionally fine for cutting purposes. The buds are a creamy orange-yellow, long and pointed, and open to beautifully formed flowers of a delicate apricot shade, paling to cream yellow at the outer edges. The fragrance, long strong stems and good foliage are other points in its favor. Does well in the average garden and has become a standard both for its fine color and form. Each, $1.25.

KAREN POULSEN

A large single rose of brilliant scarlet. It grows in clusters on upright stems. Very showy and of unfading color. One of the justly famous Poulsen varieties. Each, $1.25.

K. A. VICTORIA

This ivory-white rose has long been a favorite, both here and abroad. It produces quantities of long shapely buds which open into creamy-white roses with a touch of yellow in the center. Delightfully scented, vigorous, and one of the best white roses for cutting. Each, $1.25.

McGREDY'S YELLOW

The buds are buttercup yellow, beautifully formed. The rose is less golden when fully opened, assuming a clear, clean unfading yellow. Cup-shaped, the flower holds a cluster of golden anthers at its center. The plant is robust and free-flowering, with bright green holly-like foliage. A consistent prize winner. Each, $1.25.

McGREDY'S IVORY

An immense ivory white rose that has a wonderful fragrance. The long, symmetrical buds open very gradually to the large very double flower, with 45 petals. The foliage is dark and glossy. This variety does well in all climates. Each, $1.25.

MME. BUTTERFLY

A tender pink and cream rose with a sweet perfume. As the buds unfurl, their wide creamy pink petals reveal the deep pink glow at the center. Perfect for cutting, this rose is long lasting, with long, strong stems. Blooms almost constantly from June until late in the fall. Each, $1.25.

MME. EDOUARD HERRIOTT

A famous rose, still one of the best of the orange and pink multi-colored varieties. The brilliant coppery orange buds open into soft gay coral blooms. It is known also as the "Daily Mail" rose, which won the thousand pound prize which, years ago, the London paper offered for the best new variety. The rose blooms freely on the exceptionally vigorous plant and appears early in the season. Each, $1.25.

MRS. SAM McGREDY

Copper and pink, red and orange are the colors of this lovely rose. In bud it is predominately scarlet and orange, the open bloom is a coppery pink. This rose has a distinctly "sweet-briar" fragrance. Stems and leaves are bright bronze-green so that the plant is colorful even when it is not blooming. Each, $1.25.

MRS. P. S. DUPONT

This yellow rose has justly earned great popularity. The golden yellow bud opens beautifully, showing delicate orange tints at its depths. The rose is very double and has a fine spicy fragrance. It is at the front rank among yellow garden roses. Each, $1.25.

PICTURE

MRS. E. P. THOM

A lemon yellow rose, unstained by any other color. One of the best yellow garden roses because of its pure, unfading color, sweet fragrance and the profusion of the blooms. The bud is well-formed and opens into a very double rose with 43 petals. Bronze green foliage is in fine contrast to the yellow rose. Each, $1.25.

EDITOR McFARLAND

A rich pink rose, beautifully shaped both as a bud and when in full bloom. Each, $1.25.

FRAU KARL DRUSHKI

This regal white rose is very well known. It is, in fact, one of the best white roses ever produced. Each, $1.25.

FRANCES ASHTON

A semi-double variety, in bright carmine. A very desirable addition to the garden because of its glorious color and healthy, sturdy plant. Each, $1.25.

FAIENCE

This rose aptly bears the name of the Faience pottery, which is famous for its exquisite iridescent colors. The bud of the rose has a yellow base, shading to brilliant pink at the edges. The opened flower is a rosy peach with coppery pink tints at the center. Each, $1.25.

GOLDEN DAWN

A magnificent yellow rose, the bud splashed with crimson, the open bloom a clear lemon yellow. The flower is large and full, containing from 50 to 60 petals. Each, $1.25.

NATIONAL FLOWER GUILD

This true scarlet red rose blooms freely all season. Its most outstanding trait is its vigor and ability to flourish with little attention. Each, $1.25.

OLD GOLD

The name aptly describes this lovely single rose. The bud is a burnished yellow which takes on a tint of pink as it opens. Each, $1.25.

OPHELIA

An old garden favorite that offers everything desired in a rose. The pink bud is well-formed and long-lasting. The medium-sized open rose is creamy white stained with varying shades of salmon and pale pink. The plant is strong, upright and blooms generously. Each, $1.25.

PICTURE

This is generally recognized as one of the finest pink roses ever produced. It is a clear warm pink, with a faint undertone of salmon. From bud to bloom, it is truly a "picture rose". Each, $1.25.

PRESIDENT HERBERT HOOVER

Among roses, this one is as well known as the man whose name it bears. It is multi-colored, ranging through many shades of apricot, pink, cerise and creamy yellow. Buds and open flowers are large and vigorous and are borne singly on strong, straight stems. One of the finest roses for cutting. Delightfully fragrant and always dependable. Each, $1.25.

SHOT SILK

The bud is orange and gold, opening to a semi-double flower of coppery rose and golden yellow. The foliage is bright green and very resistant to mildew. Does well in cool places. Each, $1.25.

SISTER THERESE

A golden yellow rose, the long slender buds marked with carmine. The open bloom is a clear, delicate yellow tinged with apricot pink. It has a spicy fragrance and is suitable for cutting as each bloom is borne on a stiff stem, from 6 to 8 inches long. Frequently from 5 to 15 roses appear simultaneously, each carried on its own sturdy stem. Each, $1.25.

RED LETTER DAY

A single rose that flaunts large velvety rose-red petals. This fine old variety maintains its position as a favorite through the distinctive beauty of the rose and the plant's excellent blooming qualities and its vigor. Each, $1.25.

ROSLYN

A golden yellow rose, large and shapely. It is particularly notable for the tapering bud and the ruffled petals of the open flower. Each, $1.25.

FREE-FLOWERING HARDY CLIMBERS

These climbing roses require little ground space but will transform a fence, trellis, pillar or wall with masses of glorious flowers and green foliage. All are very choice, some of them are climbing types of famous bush varieties.

CL. ETOILE DE HOLLANDE

A very vigorous, ever-blooming red climbing rose. It grows taller, climbs more rampantly than the widely known Paul Scarlet. The blooms are brilliant dark red, with fine oval buds and beautiful open roses carried on long stems. The flowers are very freely produced and they have a delicious fragrance. Each, $1.25.

CL. HOOVER

This climber bears the multi-colored roses and has all the fine qualities of the bush variety bearing this name. The color of each rose ranges through shades of apricot, pink, cerise and creamy yellow. Buds and flowers are perfectly formed and the plant is a very strong, extensive climber. Each, $1.25.

CL. KING MIDAS—Plant Pat. No. 586

The deep, gold-colored roses of this climber grow in clusters of from four to six on a stem. A fine rose for cutting, as the buds are tight and shapely, the opened blooms large and full, and they last a long time. The hardy plant climbs quickly and vigorously and is well covered with dark green foliage. Each, $1.65.

CL. MRS. E. P. THOM

A yellow rose, pure and unfading in color; this climber produces an even greater quantity of blooms than the popular bush variety. The buds and open roses are finely modeled, their golden color heightened by the dark green foliage. Each, $1.25.

TALISMAN

This is, truly, the queen among roses, for it is known and loved everywhere. The colors are vivid contrasts of gold, rose-pink and carmine. Each, $1.25.

VICTORIA HARRINGTON

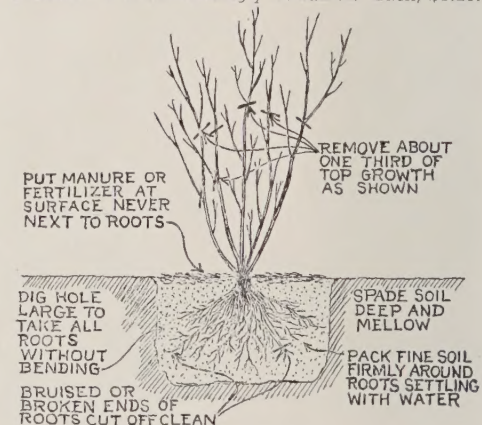

Dark red and velvety. The magnificent color is unfading even in hot weather. The pointed blackish red buds have reflexed petals; in the open flower the petals curl back into a distinct cactus form, unlike any other rose. It has a very pleasing fragrance. Each, $1.25.

CL. PAUL SCARLET

No rose has given more delight than this very popular scarlet climber. In bloom it flaunts a great mass of bright red roses that cover the branching canes from top to bottom. The roses are semi-double and are borne in clusters of from three to 20 flowers. The plant is limited in height so it is best suited for use on pillars. It is hardy, blooms gloriously in the spring and frequently, also, in the fall. Each, $1.25.

CL. TALISMAN

This climber produces flowers that are as splendid as the bush variety of Talisman. The roses are truly brilliant in their tones of yellow, coppery pink and red. The stems are long and very desirable for cutting. A fence or trellis covered with climbing Talisman is breath-takingly beautiful. Each, $1.25.
